Spaceship Earth: Educating Its Crew

Hosted by the Earth and Space Science
Laboratory
at Frederick, Maryland

<https://sites.fcps.org/essl>

Dear MAPS Member;

The Earth and Space Science Laboratory invite you, MAPS friends and colleagues, to join us July 17-20 in Frederick Maryland for what will be a historic conference. The meeting will be a great time of camaraderie and professional development, plus the chance to shop, dine, and discover historic cities and towns, wineries, orchards, and Civil War heritage sites in Frederick County. MAPS selected its name here in 1965 with a much smaller membership and simpler technology.

Livest! - Preceding MAPS, Tuesday July 16, our facility will host a special small dome workshop sponsored by Powerful Interactive Planetarium Systems (PIPS) and MAPS. Livest! will focus on lessons and guidance for portable and small dome educational presenters. See enclosed info page for more details.

Generous support from our sponsors has again allowed a low registration cost. The full registration is $130 before June 8. Take advantage of their support and expertise by joining us in the rich cultural region of Frederick County.

This year, this same packet of forms is available for internet download in case you need another copy, PLUS conference registration can be completed and paid through PAYPAL. For more information visit the MAPS web site.

Please make your plans early. Frederick is a great city and county if you would like to bring your family!

Come early and stay late!

Jeffrey Grills Mark Bowman

Jeffrey Grills and Mark Bowman, Your ESSL Hosts

Our facility: The Earth and Space Science Laboratory (ESSL) includes a Digistar 3/ Goto-Chronos Hybrid Planetarium Projector; 35 foot horizontal dome with seating for 90. Two classrooms, an elaborate salt water aquarium system, and a variety of life, physical, and earth science displays complete the facility.

A two acre arboretum and a 15' observatory are a part of the campus and will be available for the conference. The vendor hall will be housed in the gymnasium at the adjacent school. The cafeteria will be available for certain presentations.

Vacation time too- Summer time is a perfect time to take in historic Frederick County. The tourist board even has apps for a visitor guide, walking tour, and Maryland Civil War trails for your i-stuff and androids. Check out the site www.frederick.org for those- and more- to plan your visit. Plus, Frederick is about an hour from either Washington D.C. or Baltimore.

Our conference hotel: Just 2.5mi. from the ESSL, has extended a low group rate for our members as long as they reserve by June 1. Contact them - Holiday Inn Frederick-Conf Ctr. at Francis Scott Key Mall, 5400 Holiday Drive, Frederick, MD 21703 Phone: (301) 694-7500 Fax: (301) 694-0589. NOTE: Not the Holiday Inn Express.

Participate and Contribute:

There are three major ways to bring your talent and unique experience to the stage in a MAPS conference. Plenary talks are short 10-12 minute talks with or without hand-outs to the general group and a short question period. Some subjects for a number of reasons are better presented with display boards, hand-outs and one-to-one conversation and a Poster paper display allows that with a dedicated period of viewing. Workshops are longer 45-90 minute engaging sessions when small groups explore specific subjects together with a leader. Proposal forms for these are enclosed and the Program Committee welcomes one or more with your registration. And you can send them ahead of your registration form to help our hosts with scheduling.

Style and Etiquette:

Conference attire is generally work day casual but July 2013 will be a summer casual event. Many choose formal / coat-and-tie dress for the banquet Friday night. Weather typically will be hot and humid but all facilities are climate controlled.

In light of the tech culture of the 21st Century: As a professional courtesy to all speakers, please turn off cell phones, tablets, and pagers during presentations. Texting, surfing or talking during talks are distracting to all participants.

DESTINATION Frederick

The City. The County. The Region.

Frederick County, Maryland

is less than one hour from Washington, D.C., Baltimore & minutes from Gettysburg, Antietam & Harpers Ferry. Let us be your guide as you shop, dine & discover historic cities & towns. Scenic byways lead to wineries, orchards & Civil War heritage that our county has to offer.

Frederick Visitor Center

151 S. East St., Frederick, MD 21701
301-600-4047

The new Frederick Visitor Center, located in a century-old former industrial warehouse, opened in April 2011. Here visitors can take in state-of-the-art visitor exhibits that are designed to showcase all there is to see and do in Frederick County. Guests can also see the "big picture" of all the area has to offer when they view the award-winning multi-screen orientation film, A Turn of the Wheel.

Historic Downtown Frederick: Steeped in History

Strolling through the streets of Frederick, it's easy to forget that the city was the largest "northern" city General Robert E. Lee ever occupied during the Civil War. But looking past the specialty shops, restaurants and cafes, Frederick is a place of rich history and a destination for visitors seeking the stories of our nation's past. It was announced as one of the 2002 Dozen Distinctive Destinations and earned the prestigious Great American Main Street award in 2005 by the National Trust for Historic Preservation. In 2007, Frederick was named a Preserve America Community.

Here, visitors can explore:

- Rich Civil War History
- Barbara Fritchie's Frederick
- Francis Scott Key's final resting place
- Shopping & Culinary Adventures
- Outdoor Adventure
- Historic Spaces & Garden Oases
- Covered Bridges
- Guided Tours
- Frederick Wine Trail & Local Micro-Breweries
- Arts & Entertainment

Welcome to The City of Frederick!

On behalf of the Board of Aldermen and the citizens of this City, I welcome the Mid-Atlantic Planetarium Society members to The City of Frederick. Founded in 1745, Frederick is "where the past meets the present." The City of Frederick boasts a proud history including the Revolutionary and Civil Wars. Take a walking tour of our historic downtown area and you will see where Barbara Fritchie shook the flag at Stonewall Jackson and the final resting place of the author of our National Anthem, Francis Scott Key. The beautifully maintained historical architecture blends with our exciting Carroll Creek Project. Our downtown offers a diverse selection of restaurants and eateries as well as many wonderful specialty shops, art galleries and antique shops. From our treasured Weinberg Center for the Arts to our beautiful Baker Park, home of the largest musical instrument in Maryland, the Carillon, to Harry Grove Stadium, home of the Frederick Keys, our City is full of many "jewels."

As Mayor of the City of Frederick, I invite you to take some time to visit and enjoy the wonderful quality of life we enjoy in Frederick. We hope to see you often!

Sincerely,
